Instructional Plan	The Daily Instruction Plan allows the individual teacher to use the successful strategies and activities aligned to a target statement, and plug them in “on the go”. We suggest you begin with the development of whole- class, teacher-directed instruction, a time-honored strategy, done well. The framework for proven strategies is suggested within the context—Behavior Check, Review, Think, Know, Show. Includes template for a daily lesson plan.
Student Learning Plan	Putting the plan into the hands of each student gives increased opportunity for self-management and self-directed learning. Just as the teacher’s lesson plan serves as the map for executing powerful teaching, an individual student learning plan becomes the student’s map for learning. Includes a sample student lesson plan and template.
